

Many people experience hair loss during their lifetimes. This hair loss may be the result of aging, genetics, hormonal changes, or other causes, such as stress or illness. No matter what's causing your hair loss, the experts at Koher Medical can help restore your hair growth in months, not years. Contact us today to take the first steps toward having a full head of hair so you can look as good on the outside as you feel on the inside.

Hair Transplant Procedures

At Koher Medical, we're experts at performing surgical hair transplant procedures to help restore your hair growth in a natural way. For patients who meet the criteria, hair transplants can be an effective and permanent way to reduce thinning and stimulate hair growth. We use two techniques to perform hair transplants: follicular unit extraction (FUE) and follicular unit transplant (FUT). While both techniques have high success rates, the type of surgical procedure you may have typically depends on your preference and hairstyle.

Here are some of the key differences between the FUE and FUT procedures:

FUE

The follicular unit extraction technique has become a popular procedure for people experiencing hair loss because it doesn't leave a noticeable scar. During this procedure, medical staff take individual hair follicles from areas of the scalp where hair grows actively to create grafts. Then, they transplant those grafts into areas where hair growth is thinning or diminishing. This procedure works well for many men and women to help them manage their hair loss. In particular, it can be a good choice for men who want to keep their hair very short, since it doesn't leave a scar.

FUT

Long known as the primary method of hair restoration, the follicular unit transplant technique is another minimally invasive surgery option for hair loss. During this procedure, medical staff remove a strip of tissue from another area, typically the back of the head. Then, they dissect each hair follicle to minimize damage before placing it into areas of hair loss. While this procedure does leave a scar, our staff use a trichophytic closure technique, which significantly minimizes the appearance of the scar. If you have long hair, you'll be able to hide the scar easily.

Hair Transplant Recovery and Results

The actual hair transplant surgery typically takes between six to eight hours, depending on your hair type and the procedure you choose. Patients are put under a local anesthetic, similar to the numbing medication you may get at the dentist. During the procedure, you can take breaks during the day so you remain comfortable at all times.

After the procedure, you may experience some minor discomfort as you recover, such as forehead swelling, itching, and tenderness. We provide every patient with comprehensive post-operative instructions so you know how to care for yourself after the surgery. It typically takes most patients about one week to heal after the procedure.

Most patients begin to see results from their hair transplant procedure about 90 days after surgery. We'll schedule follow-up appointments for 6, 12, and 18 months after your surgery to make sure hair growth is progressing as expected. In most cases, you can expect to see full cosmetic results within 12 to 15 months. We've successfully helped thousands of patients restore their hair growth. Browse our before-and-after gallery to see some of the impressive results for yourself.

Other Hair Restoration Options

While a hair transplant is a popular choice for patients experiencing hair loss, it's not the only option. At Koher Medical, we offer a range of other hair restoration options to meet your needs and preferences. Our medical experts can perform low-level laser therapy, which involves using near-infrared light (NIR) therapy on the scalp to stimulate hair follicles and promote hair growth. In some cases, you can use portable laser therapy devices in the comfort of your own home.

In addition, we can also prescribe medications or recommend topical solutions to help with hair loss. For example, the topical medication minoxidil, commonly known as Rogaine, can help patients increase hair growth on their scalp and face. We often recommend medications or topical solutions in combination with other treatments for maximum results.

Pricing and Financing

One question we hear often from patients is how much a hair transplant will cost. Typically, the cost of this surgery depends on the number of grafts used for the procedure. During an FUE procedure, we individually extract each graft, which means this procedure is more expensive than the FUT technique. The number of grafts for a hair transplant procedure can vary based on the amount of the area where you want to restore growth and your hair type. For more information about pricing, schedule a free consultation to speak with one of our experts in more detail.

We work with two different providers to offer financing options for patients. The first option, CareCredit, offers 0% financing over 18 months, which can be a good option for some patients. If you're interested in longer-term financing, we also work with Allegheny Federal Credit Union, which offers a 72-month financing option.

Koher Medical Staff

Led by founder Dr. Grant Koher, a leading hair restoration surgeon, the staff at Koher Medical has decades of experience in hair restoration treatments. For over 25 years, Dr. Koher has helped patients around the world regain their hair growth, becoming widely regarded as one of the top surgeons in the field. With first-class medical staff, industry-leading expertise, and state-of-the-art equipment, Koher Medical offers patients in multiple states an opportunity they won't find anywhere else. Staff at our surgical offices in North Carolina and Pennsylvania are ready to meet with you to take the next steps toward hair restoration.

Schedule a Free Hair Treatment Consultation at Koher Medical

If you're experiencing hair loss, you may have many questions about the type of procedure or treatment that will work best for you. That's why we offer a complimentary consultation to help you learn more about the options you have. Contact us for more information about the hair restoration surgeries, treatments, and services we offer. We're proud to be one of the leading hair restoration medical providers for patients in the areas of High Point, North Carolina, and Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. We look forward to meeting with you soon to discuss your hair restoration options.